President Cecil Carter summarized the club's excursion to Arcadia to take part in the Memorial Day service for twenty-three British airmen who perishing during training exercises at the time of World War II. As in past years, the club donated a wreath that was placed on the airmen's graves. Cecil Carter and member John Welch had the honor of presenting the wreath. Cecil also mentioned the nice luncheon at Mary Margaret's tea room which continues to be a post-ceremony destination for the club.

The club was reminded of the Saturday, June 13 event of touring the Naples Depot Museum and/or attending the Naples English Pub for lunch after the museum tour.

There was a general request for articles to be written for the British Marque and a "tongue-in-cheek" trophy for Spirit of the Club will be presented at the Christmas dinner to a member creating a significant number of articles. Peter Sales is eager to pass on the trophy he won last year.

Cecil related the ongoing snafus for the club's webpage and he has emails out trying to make progress on development of the page. There was a certain amount of frustration voiced about the many delays of the webpage production.

Susan O'Bryan was the winner of the 50-50 of $45.

The next meeting will be held at Famous Dave's on Tuesday, July 14.
